Breasted, J. H. - U. of Chicago - February 1919 (062)

February 14th, 1919

Professor J. H. Breasted,

University of Chicago,

Chicago, Ill.

Dear Professor Breasted:

I am glad to get your letter this morning calling my attention to Mr. Irwin as a possible candidate for a position in Oriental Languages in the University. I am not quite sure as to what we are to do in the immediate future, but I will hand your letter to Professor Taylor.

I look back with pleasant memory to your visit to Toronto now taking its place rather far back I am sorry to say in the flow of years.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
